

Letter informing of IAC's Disaffiliation

IAC informs that, since March of 2014, it is no longer part of the group of institutions affiliated to UNICIN (Union of the International Conscientiocentric Institutions), whose headquarters are in Iguazu Falls, Brazil, and which was established and managed under the guidance of Waldo Vieira.

The decision for disaffiliation occurred after careful analysis by the Directors of IAC and the coordinators of its international centers, counting with the support of more than 90% of IAC's volunteer staff.

The dissidence of IAC was the result of applying the principle of "the lesser of evils," in the face of increasing interventionist pressure by UNICIN; who did not respect its own bylaws and also blocked any possibility of diplomatic dialogue. Thus, IAC manifested its sovereign decision to continue with the cosmoethical clarification task, guaranteeing with such measure the realization of its work without limitations and restrictive controls, which are incoherent with the basic precepts of conscientiology and with long-established scientific principles. Understanding that true science does not have an owner, nor centralized control, IAC prioritized, in this fashion, loyalty to ideas and principles over political-ideological associations or group links.

IAC continues its advanced and polykarmic existential program of research, study, dissemination, and education of Conscientiology, and the safeguarding of the cosmoethical and scientific principles of such science. It continues working for a coherent and free conscientiology.

Best wishes of existential completism to all.
